CALCULATING THE APS SCORE

NOTE: Life Orientation cannot be used for any of the calculations.

You have to meet the individual subject admission requirements for the qualification. In addition, you also have to meet the minimum Admission Point Score (APS) scores using the method that applies to the qualification you are applying for.

METHOD 1: Best of six subjects

The APS is calculated using the percentage score for the 6 highest scoring subjects including those required subjects such as Mathematics, Physical Science, and English, but excluding Life Orientation and adding up all the raw scores, and dividing by 10.

For example:

SUBJECT	PERCENTAGE	CALCULATION
English	57%	57
Mathematics	55%	55
Subject 3	50%	50
Subject 4	54%	54
Subject 5	43%	43
Subject 6	45%	45
APS score (min)		304 ÷ 10 = 30.4

METHOD 2: Double Maths and Science plus English and the next best subject

The APS is calculated using the percentage score for the required subjects such as Mathematics, Physical Sciences, English and a 4th highest subject, but excluding Life Orientation. Multiply the marks for Mathematics and Physical Sciences by 2 and add up all the raw scores, then divide by 10.

For example:

SUBJECT	PERCENTAGE	CALCULATION
English	57%	57
Mathematics	55% x 2	110
Physical Science	50% x 2	100
Subject 4	54%	54
APS score (min)		321 ÷ 10 = 32.1

METHOD 3: Double Maths and Accounting, plus English and the 3 next best subjects

The APS is calculated using the doubling the percentage score for Mathematics and Accounting, and then adding the 4 next best subjects (excluding Life Orientation), then dividing by 10.

For example:

SUBJECT	PERCENTAGE	CALCULATION
English	57%	57
Mathematics	55% x 2	110
Accounting	62% x 2	124
Subject 4	54%	54
Subject 5	48%	48
Subject 6	65%	65
APS score (min)		458 ÷ 10 = 45.8

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

In accordance with the national Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) requirements and the institutional RPL policy and practices, candidates who do not meet the minimum requirements and submit a portfolio of evidence of non_formal and formal learning and relevant industry experience will be considered for access to this qualification.
